

FRIENDS AT BIER OF JUDGE MILLS LAUD HIS WORK ON BENCH

Courts Suspend During Funeral Services of Former District Jurist.

The funeral of Judge Samuel C. Mills, a prominent jurist of the District, was held at Lee's chapel this morning. The ceremonies were under the direction of the Masons and the Grand Army of the Republic. Interment was in the Congressional Cemetery.

The pallbearers, members of Masonic bodies, were C. F. Norment, C. F. Sudworth, A. H. Rogan, J. J. Darlington, O. S. Firmin, and E. J. Boenhard. Among the honorary pallbearers were Judge C. S. Bundy, W. H. Sholes, and W. W. Knox.

The United States branch of Police Court, where Judge Mills long served, adjourned yesterday, and in respect to his memory the flag over the Court-house is at half mast today, while the judges of the Municipal Court attended the funeral in a body.

The District branch of Police Court was suspended during the funeral service, and the court was represented at the rites by Judge A. R. Mulowny and Clerk L. M. Harper.

J. D. Bloodgood, senior vice department commander of the G. A. R., delivered the eulogy, and placed a flag on the casket.

Judge Mills was a veteran of the civil war, and a member of the Sons of Jonadab, and these bodies were represented at the funeral. The only surviving organizer of the order of the Sons of Jonadab, James Croggan also was present.

Judge Mills was the son of Capt. John Mills, prominent in military affairs of the Capital fifty years ago, and the funeral ceremonies were just across Pennsylvania avenue from the house, where, fifty-one years ago this month, Judge Mills was married to Mary O. Mills.

W. A. Garner Is Wanted By His Dying Mother

If the efforts of the Washington police can bring William A. Garner to the bedside of his mother, who lies sick to death and calling for her son, in her home, in Brandywine, Md., the woman's prayers that she may see him before she dies, will not be unavailing.

Every precinct in Washington today has a lookout for Garner. He is believed to be a track inspector in the employ of one of the railroads, but so far no trace has been found of him.

For nearly twenty-four hours the search for Garner has been going on. Yesterday one of his brothers came to Washington to look for him. He has not written home for some time, it is said, and the brother went first to the Washington Terminal Company, where he had been employed.

Garner had left there and he no longer lives at the place he formerly boarded, in M street southwest. Then the brother appealed to the police. He told them the boy's mother was critically ill, and when she grew worse she called unceasingly for her younger son.

A NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENT PROBABLY SAVED HIS LIFE

In December, 1908, I suffered severely with pains in my kidneys and could not sleep nights on account of backache. I became run down, fell off in weight and was at that point when I thought I would have to stop my work as saw filer at the Cedar Creek Saw Mill Co. I had used about everything and had called in my doctor, but all to no avail.

After seeing your advertisement in the newspaper, I made up my mind to try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as a last resort. After three months' treatment I passed a gravel stone and at the end of one year's treatment, I was positively cured of all kidney troubles. After taking the first bottle I could sleep at night.

Now I am perfectly healthy and I honestly believe Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to be a thorough cure for kidney trouble.

I will allow you to publish this where it may aid others who are suffering and in closing I wish to thank you for my present good health.

Yours very truly,
A. M. WILLIAMSON,

Suicide of Lynch Is Mystery to Army Men

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, Oct. 10.—An official investigation has failed to throw any light on the mysterious suicide of Second Lieut. John R. Lynch, of the Third Cavalry, who was married at one o'clock, yesterday morning, and shot himself six hours later.

The army officers at Fort Sam Houston, where Lynch was stationed, say the young man was heavily in debt, and was facing court-martial for intoxication, but neither of these circumstances is believed to have been sufficient to cause him to take his life. His court-martial was practically certain to end with merely a reprimand.

Lynch's bride of six hours is only seventeen years old. After the midnight wedding, she went with her mother to a hotel, and the bridegroom returned to his quarters where his suicide occurred. Lynch was twenty-six years old, and had risen from the ranks. He received his commission a year ago.

New Hampshire State Natives Open Season

Members of the New Hampshire Association of the District have entered upon another active season for renewal of fealty to the Granite State of their activity, giving their first entertainment of the year last night at the W. C. T. U., 522 Sixth street northwest.

About fifty sons and daughters of New Hampshire gathered at the inaugural meeting, the president of the association, Elmer E. Fisher, presiding. A treasury balance was reported by Arthur Sargent, treasurer.

Reminiscences of vacations spent in New Hampshire were given by members, including Charles H. Turner, late Assistant District Attorney, and Miss Lydia Marshall. Miss Ella Sargent, Mrs. S. W. Frye, and Harry M. Parker were honored for contributions to the musical program.

An interesting feature of the event was the reading of a speech of George Z. Whitford, a Washington attorney, and member of the association, at the G. A. R. State encampment last summer, in New Hampshire.

The association will meet this winter, on the second Monday of each month, at the W. C. T. U.

Moral Code Explained. By Bigamous Pastor

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 10.—In a little cell in the county jail here today the Rev. John Harden, of the Little Congregational Church at Beecher, Ill., sought to explain his peculiar code of morality, by which he justified bigamy on the simple grounds that his first marriage wasn't a happy one.

"Both women knew the exact facts," he explained, "so I could see nothing immoral in marrying the second time without the formality of a divorce."

Harden, who was born in India, married in England several years ago. He left his wife and children, because, he said, of incompatibility of temper; came to America, and accepted the pastorate of the Beecher church.

Last night, confronted by his vestrymen, who had learned that his marriage to Miss Amanda Brenker, was bigamous, he confessed.

Justice Gould Upsets False Arrest Claim

Justice Gould, in the District Supreme Court today, held that a person under arrest is technically in charge of the arresting officer till arraigned in Police Court, and that precinct officers can not be held liable for the incarceration of a prisoner unless proffered bail is refused by them.

Announcing his opinion, the court directed a verdict for the defendants in the suit of William Keese, a colored youth, against Capt. Daniel Sullivan and Lieut. Edward J. Keefe, of the Third precinct station, for $3,000 damages for false arrest and imprisonment.

The youth had been arrested on a Friday, and held till Monday for investigation of a robbery near the station.

The question of whether Keese was falsely arrested was not taken up by the court other than to say that the police officials could not be held responsible.
